VOL. XVIII, NO. 25.

THE BLAIRMORE ENTERPRISE,

THURSDAY, JUNE 25, 1927.

HIS LORDSHIP BISHOP KIDD IS VISITOR TO BLAIRMORE

Right Rev. J. T. Kidd, D.D., arrived here by the local yesterday from Calgary and this afternoon and evening will conduct confirmation services at Bellevue, Coleman, Hillcrest and Blairmore.

An amendment has been made to the Alberta Liquor Act, which reads as follows: "No sale or other disposal of beer shall be made or take place in, on, or from any part of a hotel in respect of which a beer license has been granted, nor shall any part of such hotel be open for the sale of beer on any Good Friday or Christmas Day."

COUNCIL MEETING MONDAY

The regular meeting of the town council on Monday night was attended by Mayor Farmer, Councillors McVey, Ferguson, Morgan, Hamilton, Sartor's and Beebe.

The minutes of previous regular meeting were approved and read and a few small accounts were passed for payment.

Residents of Stuart Street and Seventh Avenue North complained of the local being made by water from the main river, which appears to have found a way through the river cribbing onto their lands, causing many inconveniences as well as threatening to breed disease. Council decided to look into the matter on Tuesday evening and take any action necessary.

The committee appointed to enquire into the advisability of including the West Canadian Collieries' west subdivision within the corporation of the town, reported, and as the coal company had registered their disapproval of same, the council decided to take no action. In this connection some misunderstanding regarding taxes on this property was clarified, the coal company representative stating that taxes had been paid every year on this land in their subdivision to the province, but that no assessment had ever been made of improvements for municipal taxation purposes.

Communication was received from Messrs. Gillis & Mackenzie, solicitors, stating that they had represented the town in the case of the Macleod Hospital versus the Town of Blairmore, and that Judge Jackson had reserved his decision in the matter.

Chief Spence informed the council that the hydrant at the corner of Ninth Ave. and Main St. South had been broken by a car driven by Mr. A. Ptacek and that a bill for damages would be presented to Mr. Ptacek as soon as repairs had been completed.

Upon motion by Councillors Ferguson and Beebe, it was decided to suspend repair work on Victoria Street through the town and that the province's fifty-fifty proposition for grading, etc., be accepted, the department of public works to be notified forthwith.

The offer of C. Venunzio for the purchase of lots 1 to 6 in block 11, plan 3380-T, was accepted, the price being $250 cash. These lots are located near the old brickyard.

Councillor Morgan gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the council he would introduce a traffic by-law.

The meeting adjourned, to meet again on Tuesday at 8 p.m.

On Tuesday evening at 7, the mayor and councillors looked over the grounds north of Stuart Street, where they found several streams of water from the main river running in upon private properties, leaving stagnant water in basements and pools surrounding certain residences. At the meeting following, it was decided to take immediate action to relieve the situation. In order to do this, it will be necessary to lay about 300 feet of 12 or 16-inch tile piping through a back lane, which will carry the overflow to an outlet to the river.

From the Medicine Hat News: "Mrs. Maude Johnston is the first lady golfer to make a hole in two, a feat she accomplished yesterday afternoon on the Connaught golf course. This entitles her to the prize offered by Mercury Mills Co., Ltd., of Hamilton, Ontario, a silk underwear outfit. She was the recipient of many congratulations. Miss Margaret Dryburgh was her opponent in the friendly game of nine holes in which the record was made." Mrs. Johnston was former resident of Blairmore. Her daughter, Miss Bernice, a graduate of Garbutt's, is a visitor at present with her aunt here, Mrs. Picard.

NATHANIEL BOBESKO KILLED IN BELLEVUE MINE

A miner named Nathaniel Bobesko was killed instantly in the mine at Bellevue on Thursday last, being run over by a trip of coal cars while acting in the capacity of brakeman.

At the inquest held in the Union Hall at Bellevue on Saturday evening, the following verdict was returned: "That Nathaniel Bobesko came to his death accidentally while following his employment in the Bellevue mine on June the 16th, 1927, by being crushed with mine cars, no blame being attached to any person."

The jury comprised: Charles Eimerich, foreman; John H. Green, James Edith, James Cusens, Peter Dugdale and Jack Gola, and the following witnesses were examined: Dr. G. R. Brown, Ralph Allison, Ernest Coates, William McDonald, James Radford, John Joseph McIntyre, Thos. Bradley and mine inspector Moss Johnson.

Bobesko was around fifty years of age and believed to have a family residing somewhere in Russia.

The remains were laid to rest at Bellevue on Monday.

CYRIL SANIGA KILLED IN BELLEVUE MINE

The second fatal accident within a period of two weeks occurred at Bellevue mine on Monday, when a Slavonian miner named Cyril Saniga was killed by a fall of coal.

Saniga was about thirty-four years of age and leaves a wife and two children, at present residing in Czechoslovakia. He came to Canada about a year ago and moved from Coleman to Bellevue but two months ago, where he secured employment.

A coroner's inquest was held on Tuesday afternoon, when the jury, with Mr. H. H. Meade as foreman, returned a verdict of accidental death, attaching blame to no one. Mr. F. J. Turner acted as coroner. At the inquest, Mr. P. M. Christophers, M.L.A., acted in behalf of the miners. The jury comprised Messrs. Meade, Johnson, Hampson, Ellison, Bunting and Campbell.

The remains were laid to rest in Bellevue cemetery on Wednesday afternoon.

FRIENDS DO HONOR TO GORDON STEEVES

A very pleasant evening was spent at the Lewis-McMurchie restoration on Saturday night last, when about thirty friends of Mr. Gordon Steeves gathered to do honor to him on the eve of his marriage. The friends present included: Messrs. Carl Smith, Mark Levanigie, A. M. Burnett, W. Byers, D. Oliver, A. J. Kelly, Nath. Evans, A. Waugh, V. Rinaldi, R. K. Lillie, G. A. Passmore, Charlie Sartoris, H. Pinkney, P. Bodio, Alex. Cameron, Pete McPherson, D. Lewis, Joe Fitzpatrick, Jack Fisher, W. J. Bartlett, George Sangster, John Jenkins, Hugh Manson, Rod McLeod and S. Troilo. Messrs. McMurchie and Steeves were unable to be present in person, but were there in spirit. A splendid programme of music, readings, etc., was rendered, Arthur J. Kelly occupying the chair. Refreshments were served, Mr. Kelly cutting the ice, while Andy Waugh poured the "tea," assisted by Doc Lillie as chief chef.

Numerous expressions of good will were accorded Mr. Steeves upon his new venture in life and wishes for many years of happy wedded life were endorsed by all.

As a result of the gathering a committee was assigned the duty of providing a suitable gift to be presented to the bride and groom upon their return from their honeymoon trip.

Some very large trout have been brought home during the week, one of the best being a nine-pounder, the trophy of Mr. W. A. Vaughn.

British Force Was Adequate

Would Eventually Have Won War Without U.S. Aid Says Earl Haig
The belief that the British armies would eventually have gained the victory in the world war, even if the United States had not intervened, is held by Field Marshal Earl Haig, commander-in-chief of the British expeditionary forces in France and Flanders from 1915 to 1919.

Addressing the French Empire Service League he strongly protested against what he described as a national tendency to belittle the part Great Britain played in winning the war.

He referred gratefully to the share of the allies but contended that although without United States intervention the result might have been delayed it would have been the same.

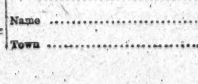

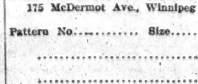

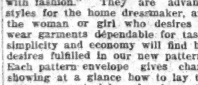

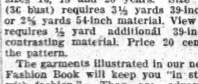

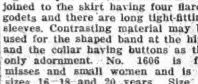

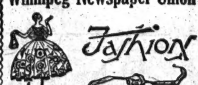

The field marshal maintained that for the last 18 months of the war the armies of the British Empire carried on their shoulders the main burden of the struggle and carried it to victory.

"The national tendency to belittle our own achievements fostered and encouraged by political considerations," he declared, "has led us to ascribe our victory to the fortunate destiny of our country, to the military genius of the allies, to the mistakes of our enemies; to the intervention of America, to anything rather than the true cause, namely, the inherent fighting qualities of the British armies and the endurance, loyalty and discipline of British people in all quarters of the world."

"If America had not come in, we might not, perhaps, have forced the enemy to surrender in 1918, for without American reserves in existence it would have been unwise to risk throwing the whole force of the British army into the tremendous series of battles which brought the war to a sudden and, according to many politicians, unexpected end, but we should have won in the end all the same."

As for the mistakes of Germany, he said she only made two serious errors, first, when she began the war under conditions which brought in the British Empire, and, second, when she lost the war.

Honors Canadian Soldiers

Mons Pays Tribute to Men Who Brought Relief to City

Heartfelt recognition of what the Canadian soldiers had done in capturing the city of Mons, where the final shot in the war was fired and the city restored to its freedom after 60 months of German occupation, was given by Burgomaster Maltrian, of Mons, at the unveiling of the plaque in commemoration of the historic entry of the Canadian corps into the city.

The Burgomaster replied on behalf of the city to the eloquent address of Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, speaker of the Canadian House of Commons, and to tributes paid by others taking part in the ceremony.

Burgomaster Maltrian paid glowing praise to the heroism of the Canadians and spoke of the deep gratitude of the people of Mons for the relief they had brought to the city. As a special mark of recognition, the Burgomaster announced that the following had been made honorary citizens of Mons:

General Sir Henry E. Horne, Commander of the First Army in whose territory the Canadians operated; Lieut.-General Sir Arthur Currie, commander of the Canadian corps; Major-General F. O. W. Loomis, in command of the third Canadian Division, and Brig.-General J. A. Clark, who was in command of the seventh Canadian Brigade, whose troops were the first to enter Mons. The latter had also been made a member of the Mons Bar, the Burgomaster said.

They are open to amateurs only, amateurs to be classed as those never having shown at a class "A" fair outside the province. The Yorkshire and Holstein breeds are to be well represented in these classes and it is expected there will be a good representation of Aberdeen Angus, Shorthorns and Herefords.

Bottled Sunshine Predicted

That sunshine may be bottled and sent to any part of the world is a scientific possibility according to a report recently read before the Association of German Chemists in Berlin. The Germans believe that by means of huge sun engines along the Nile, water can be converted into hydrogen, which can be transported to colder regions of the world in quartz bottles and later burned for light and heat.

Noted British Author Dead

"Three Men in a Boat" Endorsed Jerome K. Jerome

Jerome K. Jerome, noted British author died at Northampton, Eng., from cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Jerome, who was perhaps best known for his "Three Men in a Boat," was stricken at Northampton while on a motor tour and was placed in a hospital. While his condition continued serious recent reports were to the effect that he had been improving and news of his death came as a shock.

The adventures of "Three Men" on a river holiday cruise in England endeared Mr. Jerome to the English reading world at the beginning of '90's, placing him in the front rank of English humorists, although the Canadian soldiers had done in capturing the city of Mons, where the final shot in the war was fired and the city restored to its freedom after 60 months of German occupation, was given by Burgomaster Maltrian, of Mons, at the unveiling of the plaque in commemoration of the historic entry of the Canadian corps into the city.

Following his grammar school studies at Marlborough, Jerome in turn became a clerk, schoolmaster, actor, journalist and playwright. He was for more than 30 years one of the best known writers in England and was widely read in America. His last book, a biography, was one of the most widely commented upon works of the sort in Great Britain.

Believes in Aviation Future

Exploration Has Succumbed to Modern Methods Says Amundsen

Even conception, the oldest urge of mankind has succumbed to the expediency of modern methods of travel, and in aviation lies the future discovery of new lands declared Captain Roald Amundsen of polar fame before sailing from Vancouver for Japan.

For this reason Captain Amundsen has abandoned any plans for further exploration and will content himself for the present with re-telling of his exploits. His present journey to Japan is for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in the principal Japanese centres.

"Exploring will all be done from the air in future," declared Captain Amundsen. "I am too old to take up flying and I do not intend to start any thing which I cannot carry out myself. My trip on the Norge was a mistake. Commander Noble was a better man than I. I was an explorer. We did not see things alike."

"My exploring days are now finished and I prefer to leave while they were at a zenith. I have been following trails since I was 15 and I am content to leave it to the younger generation. My travels from now on into the northern country will be with a gun and a rod," he said. He also stated he was particularly interested in the Northern part of Canada above Athabasca and he hoped to be able to traverse the trails in that part again.

Making Concrete Lighter

"Gassing" concrete to give it added lightness is a novel idea reported from Sweden. While the concrete, a mixture of sand, gravel, and cement, is still soft, gas is introduced into the mixture. This has the same effect on the concrete as yeast has on bread, filling it with small holes. The concrete produced is just as strong as the ordinary product, but much lighter.

Invention to Test Quality of Diamonds

French Chemist Obtains Perfect Results With Ultra-Violet Ray

M. Melaval, a French chemist attached to the Lyons police laboratory, has invented a method to test the quality of diamonds by means of ultra-violet rays. Various attempts have hitherto been made to measure the intensity of the iridescence of these stones by photographic means, but solar light has always proved too diffused for accurate result. M. Melaval has obtained perfect results with ultra-violet rays passed through a screen.

The purest white stones give the clearest picture, yellow stones showing darker, while imitation diamonds show quite black.

It is claimed that the method will make it impossible to substitute stones of lesser value for real diamonds placed in deposit, for example. All the possessor of the diamonds need do will be to get an ultra-violet ray picture made of them before temporarily giving up the stones and then have a second picture made when they are returned. The method will make it possible to decide the exact quality of any diamond with almost mathematical accuracy.

Life Of Early Canadian Settlers

Primitive Life of First Settlers in Upper Canada

In this jubilee year one may contrast the lot of the immigrant today with his predecessors in old Canada. After the U. E. Loyalists, who had their own troubles, the earliest settlers had a long voyage across the Atlantic in a sailing vessel, and travelled thence to their destination by the inland waterways or by stage.

As they struck out into the wilderness even roads were few and far between. Schools, churches, doctors were non-existent or difficult of access. A good picture of early settlement in Upper Canada is given by the historian MacMillan.

He describes the settler going into the woods with no more worldly possessions than a gun, an axo and the clothes on his back.

"This lightly equipped, he took possession of his two hundred acres of closely-forested forest land and commenced operations. The workings again with the vigorous strokes as huge tree after tree is assailed and tumbled to earth; and the sun presently shines in upon the little clearing. The best of the logs are partially squared and serve to build a shanty; the remainder are given to the flames. Now the rich mold, the accumulation of centuries of decayed vegetation, is gathered into little hillocks, into which potatoes are dibbled. Indian corn is planted in another direction, and perhaps a little wheat. If married, the Jonly couple struggle on in their forest oasis like the solitary traveler over the sands of Sahara or a boat adrift on the Atlantic. The nearest neighbor lives miles off, and when sickness comes they have to travel far through the forest to claim human sympathy. But fortunately our settler, with his elastic temperament, adapts itself to circumstances. By and by the potatoes peep up, and the corn-blades modestly show themselves around the charred maple stumps and firebrd places, and the prospect of the sufficiency of food gives consolation. As winter approaches, a deer now and then adds to the comforts of the solitary people. Such were the mass of the first settlers in Upper Canada."—London Advertiser.

New Type of Airplane

Invention of French Postman Operated by Compressed Air Motor

Joseph Dole, a little town near Avignon, France, who claims to have invented a new form of flying machine to be operated by a compressed air motor and six high-pressure air supply which the motor consumes, thereby dispensing with any need of fuel power.

The plane resembles the Santos Damont model in form. The model shows two transmission pulleys and two propellers, one located over the bow of the machine and the other below midship.

Aside from the compressed air motor which is the most important feature of the postman's machine, an aeroplane distinguishes itself from other flying machines in being able to achieve vertical elevation, and the safety of the pilot is secured through transformation of the wings into parachutes. The inventor of the machine hopes to give it a trial soon at the aerodrome in Lyons.

Germany Warns Soviets

Says Communistic Propaganda in Other Countries Should be Stopped

German newspaper correspondents, after interviewing Foreign Minister Stresemann, telegraphed Berlin that Germany had decided to warn Soviet Russia that it was inadvisable to bring to an end communistic propaganda in other countries. The German foreign minister was quoted as saying it was a great pity that Soviet Russia did not know things which strengthened the hands of her enemies. He believed, however, that responsible persons in other countries did not wish to break with Russia, though "hot heads" in some of them were demanding extreme measures.

CANADA'S COMING

CELEBRATION

The Dominion of Canada on July 1st next will celebrate with country-wide festivities, the sixtieth anniversary of the Nation's birth. The occasion will have peculiar interest for the people of the United States, and many thousands of visitors from that country will take part in the various celebrations. Reasons for this are many. Chief among them are the facts that the two countries are close neighbors, separated only by an imaginary line 3000 miles long unfortified for more than a century; that the two peoples have a common language and very similar political and social institutions; that each is the best customer of the other with trade exchanges of enormous and rapidly increasing proportions; and, what is practically unknown today, that the United States played an important, though unconscious, part in the selection of Canada's official name, "Dominion."

A booklet just issued by the Canadian government's bureau of statistics discloses this last interesting information. This booklet explains how three facts made confederation, which is about to be celebrated, a practical instead of an academic question. These were, (1) a deadlock in the legislative assembly of Upper and Lower Canada; (2) notice given by the United States that the old reciprocity trade treaty would be abrogated, thus forcing Canada to look for new channels of trade and ways of promoting it; (3) intimation from the British government that Canada must to a large extent provide for its own defense.

Influence of the United States in the choice of the name "Dominion" was exerted in the discussions that preceded the adoption of the British North America Act. It has been proposed that Canada should be called the Kingdom of Canada. In the first draft of the British North America Act, prepared by Sir John A. Macdonald, the word "Kingdom" was used. Then it was pointed out that this name might be objectionable to the people of the United States. So it was set aside and the term "Dominion" was substituted. Exactly why this word was chosen is not recorded, but there is a tradition that it was suggested by the Bible text: "He shall have dominion from sea to sea."

Figures recently given by the Canadian bureau of statistics indicate the remarkable growth of the Dominion's commerce, the increase in its population, the astonishing energy of its people and the importance of such a close neighbor to the people of the United States. The Dominion's population on June 1st, 1926, was estimated at 9,389,300, an increase in the five years from June 1st, 1921, of 600,117. The national wealth of Canada is estimated at $22,000,000,000, which makes an average of $225 for every inhabitant. At the time of the adoption of confederation in 1867 the country's wealth was placed at $1,500,000, making it fourteen times now what it was then.

Canadians bought goods from the United States in the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1927, valued at $687,746,410, an amount equal almost to $69 per head of Canada's population. During the last fiscal year Canada sold to the United States goods worth $466,419,539, so that the total trade between the two countries was $1,154,165,949. This is $200,370,000 more than the total trade of the Dominion with the whole British Empire. These big figures give practical and substantial reasons for good neighborliness between the two countries and for future cultivation of that mutual attitude.

Besides these business facts, there are good grounds for lively and admiring interest on the part of the people of the United States for Canada and the Canadians. There are many aspects of the manner in which the great and prosperous nation at the north conducts its business, its government and its social life that deserve close study and emulation from its larger neighbor. It will be worth while for visitors from the United States during the coming celebrations in the Dominion to observe these features of it with special care.—Christian Science Monitor, Boston.

ADD X-RAY TO EQUIPMENT

(Clareholm Local Press)

The entire upstairs of the Reinecke building has been renovated and refurnished in an attractive manner to serve as general offices and an X-ray laboratory for Dr. J. S. Hynes. Dr. Hynes is installing a 100,000-volt 10-inch machine, or one equal in capacity to those generally used in hospital work in larger centres, with both photographic and fluorescent equipment. As this will be the only X-ray machine between Macleod and High River, it is bound to fill a long-felt need in a large territory that has hitherto been dependent on long trips to the city for X-ray accommodation.

Dr. Hynes has also installed a high frequency Diathermy and Auto-condensation machine for the purpose of electrical therapy. In the language of the street, this is an instrument of manifold uses, from surgery down to general application for painful joints, etc.

The X-ray machine will arrive today and will be installed for use early next week.

COLEMAN ROD & GUN CLUB HOLDS FIRST COMPETITION

The Coleman Rod and Gun Club opened the fishing season on Sunday last with a fishing competition, in which about forty members took part. All were very keen in the effort to take home the bacon (and the fish) and an interesting and pleasant day was spent.

The rules required that the anglers should hook them from the shore, between the hours of 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., and Graves Nest Lake was to be the scene of operation.

The prize for the finest basket of speckled trout was won by Mr. A. Phillips (a rod), and for the biggest bull trout by Mr. Arthur Jones (a pipe).

On July 10th, a similar competition will be held by the club at Lundbreck Falls.

Some very fine trout and grayling were landed during the first four days of the open season from the Middle Fork and North Fork rivers, one of the finest being a four-pound grayling that fell to the line of Mr. G. A. Vissac.

Mrs. Hugh Cameron and daughter Jean were up from Burns the early part of the week on a visit to friends.

An exchange remark: "Shoe dealers are on their uppers, hence preachers give up trying to save their souls!"

Mr. A. M. Morrison, of Coleman, has been appointed district deputy for District No. 8, of the A. F. & A. M. in Alberta.

Word has been received at Cowley of the death of Mrs. Virginia Pettit, widow of the late Hugh W. Pettit, which occurred at Spokane.

Local Oddfellows and Rebekahs held their annual memorial service on Sunday afternoon last and were joined by a number of members from Coleman.

At a local Sunday school last Sunday, a teacher asked: "In what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?" The answer was: "Dead."

The British-American Oils Limited, who recently erected a warehouse and storage tank for Art's gasoline and oils at Frank, will erect a similar station at Macleod.

Steve Dorezo returned on Friday last from Calgary, driving a new Paige sedan, which he will operate as a taxi. We understand the Mr. Dorezo has secured the local district agency for Paige cars.

Our federal member, Mr. G. G. Coote, and Mrs. Coote, are enjoying a visit to Vancouver and other coast points in company with a party of western members of parliament and upon the invitation of the Vancouver Board of Trade.

Colonel Linnbergh and New York broke another record on Tuesday of last week. Three thousand five hundred guests at the city's complimentary dinner to the flier ate 15,000 rolls, 200 pounds of celery, 300 gallons of green (not mock) turtle soup, 2000 pounds of fish, 1500 pounds of Virginia ham and a lot of other stuff, thus establishing a new record for the 20th century menu distance.

Mr. Valentino Rinaldi who has been under the "whether" or "whether-or-not" for several days, has decided to take the rest cure and immediately following the 1st of July excitement will pitch tent up the North Fork, within eighty feet of the biggest bull trout he never did see. We sincerely hope that Val will gain speedy recovery. In his absence, the Riverside Chalet will be occupied by the Froth Blowers Club.

An Englishman and an Irishman were talking about different concerts in which they had sung. The Englishman said: "When I first sang in a concert, such a shower of flowers came from the audience that I could have set up a flower shop."

"Well, that's nothing," said Pat. "When I first sang at an open air meeting, the crowd presented me with a house."

"A house?" said the Englishman. "You must be mad!"

"Faith, it's true," said Pat. "But, begorra, a brick at a time."

A local citizen named Delsanto was the victim of misfortune, when on Saturday last he was arrested by a Constable of the A.P.P., charged with being in possession of a pint bottle of British Columbia beer, contrary to the regulations of the Alberta Liquor Act. Just a few minutes previous, Delsanto had met his old friend of his who had motored in from the west, and through an act of kindness was presented with the bottle of beer, which he cached in his hip pocket. The A.P.P., with a different idea of good nature, trailed Delsanto and placed him under arrest. On Monday morning, before Magistrate Gresham, Delsanto pleaded guilty to the charge of being in possession of the beer and was fined $100 and costs, amounting in all to around $106. While the fine may be in keeping with the purpose of the act, it seems altogether out of proportion to the crime in his case.

Police are now looking for leather Miss Cameron, who has just completed her course at normal school, of a disclosure of their skin game. is back to her home at Burns.

LILLIAN BAKER AND GORDON STEEVES PRINCIPALS IN PRETTY WEDDING

St. Stephen's Anglican church, banked with seasonal flowers, ferns and palms, provided a dignified setting for a smart June wedding Saturday, June 18th, at 3 p.m., when Lillian Donald Baker, eldest daughter of Mr. Alexander Baker, and Mr. Gordon Steeves, only son of Mrs. Ruben Steeves, were united in marriage. Rev. Canon James read the wedding service, while Mr. George E. Bower provided the wedding music.

As the organist softly began the time-honored wedding music from Lohengrin the bride party entered the church and proceeded down the aisle to the altar rail. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in a Parisian creation evolved from georgette in a soft peach shade and fine wire lace. Lace and georgette have been cleverly combined, the latter forming a long waist effect ending in a petal line over the hips and being held in place with a wide crushed belt. Tiny reverses outlined with narrow lace marked a panel of lace which extended from the throat to the waistline. The skirt was formed entirely from the sheer old ivory lace, below which was worn a silken ivory slip. Enhancing her dark beauty was a large summery hat of peach georgette with a large flat flower in pink and mauve shades placed against the drooping brim and softly folded crown. Kid slippers in the new rose crush shade completed her bridal toilette. Her flowers were arranged in a shower sheaf and was composed of tiny pink Madame Butterfly roses, tiny yellow Ward rosebuds and lily-of-the-valley.

Miss Errol Baker, youngest sister of the bride, and Miss Ruby Steeves, sister of the bridegroom, had been chosen as bridesmaids, and provided a dainty contrast in mauve orchid and daffodil yellow, respectively. Cut on simple lines and distinguished by a wide sash and large bow worn on the hips, the frocks were finished with tiny ruffles outlined in silver. Their hats were large georgette models in accompanying shades, while silver shoes completed the ensemble. They carried formal sheafs of pale yellow gladiolus tied with mauve and yellow tulle.

Clifford Madden, of Landbreck, was the best man, while Dr. Blair Hoar, of Blairmore, and William Robinson were the ushers.

During the signing of the register, Miss Alya Wilson sang Greig's lovely number, "I Love Thee," while as the bridal party passed out of the church, the soft wedding music by Mendelssohn was heard.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's father to about 25 intimate friends of both families. Under a delicate tracery of fragrant roses and mauve lilies, the wedding party received in the drawing room. Mrs. Ruben Steeves, mother of the bridegroom, was modestly crowned in black crepe and remained veiled by intricate cut work over ivory white. Her hat, which was also black, was formed from lace and she wore a corsage of red roses.

The rooms were lovely with lilacs and pink roses held in silver containers, while in the dining room the bride's cake of three tiers centred the table surrounded by two shades of soft pink tulle, while tiny pink rosebuds and tall mauve cathedral tapers completed the decorative motif. Assisting in serving the guests were Mrs. A. Clifford, Miss Lillian Moseley, Miss Lillian Nolan, Miss Kathleen Nolan, Miss Florence Brankley and Miss Helen McEae.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Steeves left for their wedding trip, which will be spent in Alaska. The bride wore a trim frock of grey velvet canton with touches of silver embroidery, over which was worn a tailored homespun light coat of grey with a small hat of grey silken braid with tiny mauve and yellow daisies. Grey kid sport shoes were worn with the costume.

Following several weeks on the Pacific and at coastal cities, they will take up their residence at Blairmore—Calgary Albertan.

GERMANY TO PAY $9,000,000 FOR CANADIAN LOSSES DURING THE WAR

OTTAWA—More than nine million dollars will probably be paid to Canada for losses suffered during the great war.

This sum, it is stated, represents the total amount approved for payment of claims aggregating fifty million dollars, in an interim report prepared by James Friel, K.C., Montreal, N.B., royal commissioner investigating Canadian claims for war indemnity against Germany.

Approximately 1497 awards have been made, while thirteen remaining cases remain to be reported upon by the commissioner. It is expected that this final report will be available in the near future.

A list of the number of successful claimants is being withheld until the whole question of payment of these claims is considered by a sub-committee of the cabinet.

Little likelihood exists, however, that the matter of payment will be officially considered until the commissioner's final report is received.

EDITH CAVELL

MEMORIAL CHURCH

Plans will be undertaken this summer for the erection of a church in Jasper to be known as the Edith Cavell Memorial Church, at the foot of the glacier of the Angel, Mount Edith Cavell, Jasper national park, as a tangible tribute to the memory of the martyr nurse of the great war.

"Yes, sir," came the reply; "it's the same mother."

"Clarence," called a lady from a downtown residence to Crows' Nest Pass Motors, "I want you a moment." Clarence arrived and she at once apologized, saying: "I am not accustomed to call my chauffeurs by their first name, Clarence. What is your surname?"

Clarence—"Darling, madam!"

"Drive on, Clarence!"

The local schools close for the summer holidays on Thursday next.

Phyllis was a young miss just home for her Easter holidays. "Well, mother," quoth she, "even now I have graduated, my work isn't finished. I must now study psychology, philology, bibli—"

"Just wait a minute," said her mother, in kindly, firm tones. "I have arranged for you to take a thorough course in workology that includes roatology, stichology, darology and in general domesticology. Just put on that apron and begin peeling those potatoes."

Same Subject

Corroboration—A class in a London school was set to write about "Mother." When the teacher came to mark the exercise, he noticed that two boys, brothers, had written almost the same words. "John," he complained to the boy he knew to be the culprit, "you've written just what your brother wrote."

Lethbridge merchants have decided to open the markets on Saturday, July 2nd.

Singing Tobacco-Grower to Feature Festival

2. Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, where Festival will be held. 3. Vincent Ferrier de Repentigny. 4. Madame de Repentigny. 5. One of the handkerchiefs of old Quebec.

For more than three-score years Vincent Ferrier de Repentigny has been singing. He sings in the morning while he is dressing, he sings while he works, he sings in the evening when he is sitting in the rocking chair by the kitchen stove. In fact, Madame de Repentigny asserts that it is not unusual for her good man to sing in his sleep.

Vincent Ferrier de Repentigny, by the way, is one of the best known interpreters of the French Canadian folk-songs. He has the largest repertoire—357 songs, some dating back to the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, which were sung in the courts of France and by the labor folk on the shores of Brittany. Most of these songs are the work of his own pen, and he has himself sung them at the spinning wheel in the little farm-house at St. Timothee where de Repentigny spent his youth. Other he learned from the shanty men during the winters he spent in the "woods"—good rollicking songs that were sung hundreds of years ago by the "voyageurs" who explored Canada's rivers and forests in the early days.

De Repentigny comes of a family which stood high at the Court of France. He is a descendant of the famous Madame de Repentigny, who was responsible for the introduction of the French vessel "La Seine" carrying the annual cargo of Paris frocks for the ladies of the Court. De Repentigny was captured in the high seas by the British, and these ladies saw themselves faced by the prospect of being supplied for an indefinite time from the supply of new clothes, Madame de Repentigny, the social leader of the time, set the farmers at once to the sewing of flax and the breeding of sheep, and the women to the spinning of thread and the weaving of cloth.

De Repentigny is still as vigorous as he was thirty or forty years ago. He is well known to the French population of the Province, and almost as well known to the English. He will leave his farm in August and sing for the Canadian Handkerchief and Folk-song Festival which is being held at the Chateau Frontenac in Quebec from May 20 to 22.

De Repentigny began life as a farmer and intends to spend the remainder of his days growing "tobacco Canadian," but he has tried his hands at many trades. He has spent several winters in the bush; for some time he was captain of a great lakes freighter; and he has been a restaurateur in Rouen. Yet he is a true "habitant," and there is nothing that appeals to him so much as his native country, house somewhere in his native country, and a few good acres of healthy soil.

This big-hearted little fellow who has a smile and a handshake for everyone carries his sixty-five year lightly. His voice is as strong as it was when he was a young man; his step as light. De Repentigny's grandfather lived to the great age of 108, and he was hale and hearty at ninety, and De Repentigny himself expects to sing all of his 87 songs for many a time yet, and grow many pounds of good tobacco. So he joins his illustrious forefathers.

WILL FITTINGLY CELEBRATE
THE DIAMOND JUBILEE

The stage is practically all set for the big Diamond Jubilee Celebration to be held here on Friday and Saturday of next week, July 1st and 2nd.

Final arrangements were effected and approved at a meeting of the citizens' committee held in the Elks' hall on Tuesday night, with Chairman Gillis presiding.

As already stated, children will gather at the school grounds at 10 o'clock prompt on Friday, where they will each receive from the Elks a flag. A procession will form up, headed by the West Canadian Band, in which all citizens are expected to join. Floats, lorries, decorated cars, etc., will fall in line. The procession will proceed eastward along State Street, returning via Victoria Street to the bandstand, which will be fittingly decorated and from which addresses will be given by his worship, the mayor and others and children will be presented with bronze jubilee medals as souvenirs.

On behalf of the programme committee, Mr. Robert Dickson reported that he had arranged to have a junior choir of at least sixty voices present for the parade and ceremonies of July 1st and 3rd, and also that this choir would, with the assistance of the band, lead all singing.

The meeting decided to bring in an outside speaker for Friday, and the name of Rev. J. H. Garden, of Pincher Creek, was among those suggested.

The following were nominated as judges for the parade and decorated homes and stores: Mr. G. E. Cruickshank, Hillcrest; Mr. Chas. Emmerson, Bellevue; and Mrs. F. J. Smith, Hillcrest. Three others were named as alternatives, in the event of any of the above not being in a position to act.

It was decided to urge upon citizens and storekeepers generally the importance of decorating their homes and stores for the occasion, and to state that this "itinerary" of the judges will depend upon entries. Only such streets as are represented in the entry list will be visited by the judges.

The tentative programme bent out from the National Committee at Ottawa suggests that all whistles, school and church bells, etc., be sounded at 12 o'clock noon. The Blaimore committee, however, in view of the fact that considerable of the day's programme will be in progress at noon, decided to have all such great noises lead off the day's proceedings promptly at 10 a.m., when everyone who has any contrivance for making a noise are asked to bring same into commission. It might be well also, at this juncture to state that the town's new fire siren will likely join in the fray at that hour, so that the public may govern themselves accordingly and not become unnecessarily excited at hearing the fire alarm.

The programme committee has also decided to hold a national thanksgiving service, as outlined by the National Committee, on Sunday, July the 3rd, commencing at 2:30 sharp. At this service the Bellevue band and children's mass choir will assist the singing, and the clergy of the different local denominations, together with the mayor and chairman, will speak.

The service will open with the Old Hundredth, "Praise God from Whom All Blessings Flow," followed by a prescribed reading commemorative of the pioneers and settlers who laid our country's foundation, as follows:

"It is appropriate that the first note of thanksgiving should also be commemorative of the early pioneers and settlers who by their labors laid the foundations of our nation. The words of the following hymn have been sung through many generations and in many lands. They acquire a new significance as they call to mind the trials and privations of those heroic men and women who, in deep forest or lonely clearing, made the first Canadian homes. Leaving behind many of their own kin and friends and the securities and comforts of civilization, they brought with them a high courage, firm endurance, and an abiding faith in the God of their fathers."

Then shall be sung by all present the hymn: "O God of Bethel! By Whose Hand Thy People Still Are Feil."

This will be followed by the "Jubilate," "O Be Joyful in the Lord A! Ye Lands!" (Psalm C).

The text of the Lord's Prayer, as used at the opening of each day's proceedings in the parliament of Canada, will then be read:

"Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be Thy name. Thy Kingdom come. They will be done in earth as it is in heaven. Give us this day our daily bread. And forgive us our trespasses, as we forgive them that trespass against us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil—Amen."

This will be followed by a reading commemorative of the Fathers of Confederation:

"The value and interest of history are derived chiefly from the lives and services of the men whom it commemorates. Without these the progress of the nation would be little worth recording. Upon this day of national thanksgiving it is fitting to recall the eminent services of the Fathers of Confederation, through whose efforts the scattered provinces of Canada have been united under one constitution. Our appreciation of their greatness increases with the passing years. To follow in their footsteps in devoted service to our country is the highest tribute we can pay to their memory. Expression is given to this tribute in the words of the following hymn:"

Following this will be sung the hymn, "Lord, while for mankind we pray; Of every clime and coast, O hear us for our native land, The land we love the most."

Then the following special psalm, to be read aloud by all present:

1. Therefore thou shalt keep the Commandments of the Lord thy God, to walk in His ways and to fear Him. For the Lord thy God bringeth thee into a good land; a land of brooks, of water, of fountains, and depths that spring out of the valleys and hills. A land of wheat, and barley and vines, and fig trees, and pomegranates; a land of oil, olive and honey. A land wherein thou shalt eat bread without scarceness; thou shalt not lack anything in it; a land whose stones are iron, and out of whose hills thou mayest dig brass. When thou hast eaten and art full, then thou shalt bless the Lord thy God for the good land which He hath given thee. Beware that thou forget not the Lord thy God, in not keeping His commandments, and His judgments and His statutes.—Deut. 5: 6-11.

2. Obey My voice, and I will be your God, and ye shall be My people; and walk ye in all the ways that I have commanded you, that it may be well unto you.—Jer. 7: 23.

3. Honor thy father and thy mother, as the Lord thy God hath commanded thee; that thy days may be prolonged, and that it may go well with thee in the land which the Lord thy God giveth thee.—Deut. 5: 16.

4. And what doth the Lord require of thee, but to do justly and to love mercy, and to walk humbly with thy God.—Micah 6: 8.

5. If thou draw out thy soul to the hungry, and satisfy the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy darkness be as the noonday; and the Lord shall guide thee continually.—Isa. 58: 10-11.

6. These are the Statutes and Judgments, which ye shall observe to do in the land, which the Lord God of thy fathers giveth thee to possess it, all the days that ye live upon the earth.—Deut. 12: 1.

The next item in the service is a reading commemorative of those whose lives have been given in the service of the country:

"On this day of national thanksgiving, it is especially appropriate that we should keep in remembrance those brave men and women who have made the supreme sacrifice in the service of our country. We cannot more worthily commemorate their memory than in prayer that we, the living, may derive strength and courage to hold fast the principles of service and freedom for which they died."

Here the Last Post will be sounded, to be followed by a minute of silence. At the conclusion will be sung the hymn, "O Valiant Hearts, Who to Your Glory Came."

A prayer for divine guidance in the government of our land follows, with the 67th Psalm: "God be Merciful Unto Us."

The concluding portions of the services will be the hymn "From Ocean to Ocean Our Land Own Thee Lord," followed by the National Anthem, "O Canada," and "God Save the King."

Sports programmes on Friday and Saturday will be in charge of the Blaimore Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., and offer many attractions. The list of events and prizes will be found elsewhere in this issue and on large posters.

To keep things humming the Elks' Third Annual Three-Day Carnival opens at the arena on the night of Thursday, June 30th, and promises to excel any attempt so far made by the Elks in Alberta.

In addition to the decoration of homes, stores, hotels, etc., a monster Jubilee arch will be erected by the town at a point just west of the Victoria Street bandstand. The main arch will have a clearway of thirty feet and will allow space on either side as well for traffic. This arch will be attractively illuminated on the nights of July 1st and 2nd.

The big attraction for the kiddies will be fireworks and pyrotechnic display at the sports grounds about 9:45 Friday evening.

Lastly, this is the only time in this generation we shall have the opportunity of celebrating the big event, the confederation of the provinces of Canada. All who have the interests of the land of their birth or adoption at heart should manifest the same in every possible way on this occasion.

That's Goodenough.

Word has been received this week from Mr. Howard P. Looks as if you want fish, don't buy a license. Last week we decided to go to British Columbia for a day's fishing. Before going we bargained to sell sixty pounds of our catch to Alberta friends. At Elko we purchased a legal right in the form of a license permitting us to carry rod and other tackle and to fish in the inland lakes and streams of our neighbor province. Refreshments, gasoline and other accessories cost more than we were to realize for our catch. We fished—that's all!

Mrs. Geo. Pattinson and Mrs. C. F. Dunlop entertained at the home of the former on Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Annie Foster, a popular member of the local school staff, whose marriage takes place early next month. McLean takes place at Coleman on Wednesday next. Mr. McLean is principal of the Bellevue school.]

The Mosquito Pest

The people of Canada are slowly awakening to the necessity of concerted, aggressive action to destroy the breeding places of mosquitoes. Like so many other things with which we stupidly put up, the mosquito pest can be practically eliminated if we go the right way about it, and become fully convinced that prevention is worthwhile. The mosquito is not only a source of irritation and pain, but it is an actual menace not only to human beings but to dumb animals as well.

The United States succeeded in constructing the Panama Canal, where the French had failed, largely because the American engineers tackled the problem of first destroying the mosquitoes and flies which made life unbearable in the Panama zone and were the prolific carriers of disease and fever among the workmen. Panama had first to be made a fit place in which to live and work before the canal could be built. And the campaign which was successfully conducted there has been followed elsewhere in the southern states.

Apart altogether from the discomfort to humans, and the communication of disease for which the mosquito is responsible, the fact is that the country sustains an economic loss as a result of the tortures endured by horses, cattle, and other animals in the open where mosquitoes thrive uncontrolled and these dumb creatures have no means of protecting themselves. The question has well been asked, how can animals upon which farmers rely for work and production yield normal production under such conditions? Any thing that will eliminate the mosquito and free horses and cattle from the irritation which they now must suffer will be repaid many times over.

Mosquito elimination campaigns are now in progress in Banff, Ottawa, Winnipeg, and in the Fraser River Valley, and every community which suffers from this pest would be well advised to follow their example. Inasmuch as the scientific facts upon which mosquito control is based are of general public interest, we quote the following from Toronto Saturday Night, which is urging Governments to take the lead in this campaign.

The life-history of the mosquito shows that most of the eggs are laid the previous summer in little, often in stagnant pools or in places that will become stagnant for a sufficient length of time in the spring. Barrels, old cans, broken bottles, or any water-containing vessels lying in the open are also favorite breeding places. Rivers or running streams do not breed mosquitoes. The eggs are laid in stagnant water, or where there will be stagnant water for a sufficient length of time.

Pools that dry up in two or three weeks are of no consequence. The eggs are not affected in the least degree by frost, but hatch out about April 15th. Sometimes earlier, into wigglers, or larvae, as scientists call them. These wigglers swim and feed at the bottom of the pool, rising every two or three minutes to the surface, tail first. On the tail is a fine air tube, which is thrust just above the surface to take in air—without which the wigglers cannot live. After two or three weeks of this existence the wigglers change into common shaped pupae, which in from two to seven days come to the surface, split and liberate the complete mosquito.

Thus, in the life cycle of the mosquito it is most readily destroyed in the wiggler stage by pouring on the surface of the pools a thin film of crude oil, a cheap commodity, which chokes or poisons the fine air-tube at the end of the wiggler's tail. This is applied either by watering cans or by knapsack sprayers. Small areas may be successfully handled by individuals with coal-oil or crankcase waste oil from automobiles. Rags, soaked in these substances, may be weighted with stones and thrown into pools.

In these days of machinery on the farm and the almost universal use of automobile, there are old soaked rags about, dirty waste oil after cleaning out automobile crank cases and parts of tractors and other machinery, and if these waste substances, instead of being burned, were thrown into stagnant pools of water and other breeding places of the mosquito, the result would be beneficial. The general adoption by people of the policy of spraying life in the summer months, assisting to check the spread of fever, and bring economic gain, as well as relieving our dumb animals of the suffering they now undergo.

Additional information on the subject of mosquito control can be obtained by writing the Dominion Entomologist at Ottawa.

Heart Secondary Motive Power

Activity of Cells Comes First Says German Professor

Professor Martin Mendelsohn, who has occupied the chair of diseases of the heart in Berlin university since 1899, has put forward the extraordinary theory that the heart is not the prime motive power for life, but as an organ plays only a secondary part. His theory is that the activity of the cells of the body, in absorbing and eliminating fluids, constitutes the chief motive power in forcing the blood through the system.

Post War Adjustments

Over a Million Europeans Are With out a Country

Post war developments, including readjustment of frontiers, have left more than a million people in Europe without a country. It was declared by Dr. Fridtjof Nansen, high commissioner of the international committee for Russian relief.

It is hoped to alleviate this condition, he said, by extending the system of special League of Nations passports. Progress has been achieved in the plan to settle Russian refugees in Argentina, Brazil and Paraguay.

Oppose Granting Subsidy

Objection to Proposal That Federal Government Should Subsidize Seed Growers

At the twenty-sixth annual convention of the Canadian Seed Growers' Association, at Victoria, President Strange objected to proposals that the federal government should subsidize seed growers. He preferred, he said, some system whereby the product of the expert growers should be identified, enabling such growers to benefit from public demand for output of quality.

"There is no questioning that the high price Canadian field crops hold abroad is due in no small degree to the fact that the producer has had, for many years, need of superior pedigree. These have allowed the Canadian farmer to compete in world markets despite the higher Canadian scale of living and production costs," said Mr. Strange, in paying a tribute to the splendid work of past presidents and officials of the association.

The directors' report presented by Peter Stewart, Ottawa, secretary-treasurer, gave the following data as to major crop and seed inspections during the year:

Fields inspected, 2,205; registration certificates issued, 1,599; wheat, 19,511 acres yielding 472,589 bushels; quantity seed inspected and sealed 34,792 bushels; barley, 2,341 acres yielding 34,275 bushels; quantity seed inspected and sealed, 13,253 bushels; corn 298 acres yielding 3,605 bushels; quantity seed inspected and sealed 170 bushels; alfalfa, 2,809 acres yielding 259,194 pounds; quantity seed inspected and sealed 213,832 pounds, this being a record production.

The association has now a membership of 633 seed growers as follows: Prince Edward Island, 14; Nova Scotia, 5; New Brunswick, 13; Quebec, 43; Ontario, 160; Manitoba, 33; Saskatchewan, 173; Alberta, 225; British Columbia, 8.

The directors were proud of the coming to Canada of the champion ships in wheat and oats as a result of "the outstanding performance of a comparatively young member, Herman Treile, Wembley, Ala."

Airlines Valuable in Exploiting Resources

Service More Important in Canada Than in Other Countries

The question of aerial transport of mail, freight and passengers is probably the most important of the future of Canada than in any other country, except Russia, writes Ellwood Wilson, president of The Fairchild Aerial Service, Limited, in The Financial Post. We have very large areas whose mining and perhaps other industries could be carried on, but which would not pay for the building of railroads, and in any case their development cannot wait until a railroad could be built.

The aeroplane affords a safe and reasonably cheap means of transportation, with rapidly far superior to that of trains. It may be said, however, that no unsubsidized transport line has as yet made money; the Canadian services receive government subsidies, and in the United States air mail contracts are being looked to carry the burden of establishing and operating costs in the hope that freight and passenger services will develop. No line can be started unless there is some assurance that there will be enough travel to pay for operating expenses.

Reducing Canada's Debt

Forty-two Millions in Reduction in Last Fiscal Year

Canada's net debt was reduced by $42,000,000 during the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1927. When he delivered his budget speech February 17 last, Hon. J. A. Robb, Minister of Finance, could only estimate what the decrease would be, since the Government's financial year had almost run its week to go. Mr. Robb erred on the side of caution, and placed the figure at $31,000,000. That he was well within the mark is indicated by the information that he under-estimated the amount by eleven million dollars.

It is figured that in the last four years the national debt has been reduced by $106,000,000.

In November of this year there are maturing loans of $37,000,000, the minister hopes to redeem one of these in cash and at least a portion of the other, while necessary refinancing will be accomplished at a reduced rate of interest.

Fruit Growing in British Columbia

43,569 Acres Now Devoted to This Industry

In British Columbia commercial fruit growing is of comparatively recent origin, but the development of commercial orcharding has been very rapid, especially during the last ten years. The first apple trees were planted about 1850, but not until several years later were numerous trees planted for commercial purposes. The census of 1891 gave the area devoted to all kinds of fruit as 6,500 acres; in 1921 the census showed a total fruit acreage in British Columbia of 43,569 acres. The most noted fruit district in the province is the Okanagan valley, where some of the finest orchards in the province and in the Dominion are to be found. The boxed apples from British Columbia are in demand on all the important markets in the British Isles and Europe. Pears, plums, peaches, apricots, cherries and small fruits are grown on a large scale throughout British Columbia.

Feldspar on Lake of the Woods

U.S. Syndicate Opening Crushing and Grinding Plant

An interesting mining development is taking place at the Northwest Angle, Lake of the Woods. A United States Syndicate is opening up a feldspar mine on the U.S. side of the border. This is the first syndicate of the kind in the northwest. The feldspar will be shipped south for treatment at first, but it is the intention of the syndicate to erect a crushing and grinding plant at the mine, the quality of the rock proves satisfactory. A deposit of mica is also to be exploited. A company is also developing a feldspar and mica claim on the Canadian side of the border. If the mica is found to be unsuited for commercial purposes, attention will be given solely to the feldspar.

Third Rail Stops Engine

By means of a third rail that develops electricity during the movement of the train, a device recently invented by an Italian, stops trains without the action of the engineer. When anything obstructs the track a light shows in the engine cab. If this is ignored a bell rings, and should the ringing escape attention the engine is automatically stopped by the device that applies the brakes. The third rail can also be used for a telephone service for drivers.

Find Huge Telescope Reflector

Made by Sir William Herschel Century and Half Ago

A telescope reflector weighing half a ton was made by the great Sir William Herschel at his observatory near Slough 150 years ago. Later a heavier one was substituted and the old one was put away, but where it went nobody knew. Sir William's son died in 1817, and the secret died with him. The reflector was supposed to have been put in a cottage close by, but there was no trace of it.

Now the cottage has been in the hands of the builders, and there, buried in the wall behind the stairs, the reflector has been found in its iron case. With a series of mirrors a ray of sunlight was cast on its beautifully polished surface, leaving no doubt as to its identity. The historic reflector has been removed from its strange hiding-place.

A FAMILY MEDICINE

A Landed Lady Tells of the Value of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in Her Home

"I have many reasons for praising Dr. Williams' Pink Pills," says Mrs. George Swick, R.R. No. 2, Welland, Ont. "My first experience with this medicine was in my girlhood, when, following an attack of scarlet fever, I was left in a badly run down condition, and the pills restored me to good health. Later in my married life I had a severe attack of rheumatism. The pain in my right arm and shoulder was so acute that I could not dress myself without help. Again I resorted to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and again they proved a blessing to me, as soon the rheumatic pain and stiffness disappeared and there has been no return of the trouble. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have also been of great benefit to my children. One of my boys was threatened with diphtheria. His limbs and face would twitch and jerk. I gave him the pills, and again they did not fail, as under the treatment the trouble ceased. I have also given the pills to my little girl, who was anemic, and this case also with the greatest benefit. Naturally when I hear any one complaining of weakness, or as I know of no other medicine to equal them in building up the blood and restoring health."

Take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for anemia, rheumatism, indigestion, neuritis and other nervous troubles. Take them as a tonic if you are not in the best physical condition, and they are a real restorative that will keep you well and strong. You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine, or by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

ELECTORS OF MANITOBA GO TO POLLS JUNE 28

Winnipeg.—Election of Manitoba will go to the polls June 28 to determine the composition of the eleventh Legislature of the province and incidentally pass upon the record of the Bracken Progressive administration which has been in power for the past five years.

Devoid of any outstanding political issues the campaign has resolved itself into straight party appeals for the confidence of the electors with Government candidates asserting that defeat of the Bracken Government will bring about a group system of Government or coalition of two or more minority parties.

At dissolution the government supporters numbered 28 in a House of 55 members, a majority of one over all. Progressive control of the Legislature, however, has at no time been endangered during the five years of the Government's tenure in office and on every important division the Progressives have been sustained by substantial majorities.

The standing of other parties at dissolution was: Liberals, 7; Conservatives, 6; Labor, 4; Independents, 5, while two seats were vacant.

On all vital issues in the Legislature the majority of the Independents have fallen in line with the Government, while the other groups have alternated in assuring passage of bills that encountered opposition. The most serious threat that was aimed against the Government was during the closing days of the last session when Liberals, Conservatives and Labor members combined in a series of blocking tactics, which ended however, in a clean-cut victory for the Government.

In the Progressive election manifesto a strong appeal was made to the electors for return of the Government on its past record which was described as "in keeping with every pre-election pledge given in 1923."

Strangler Is Arrested

Man Who Committed Two Murders in Winnipeg Is Positively Identified

Winnipeg.—The brutal slayer of Lola Cowan, 14-year-old school girl, and Mrs. Emily Patterson, 27-year-old choir singer and mother of two children, strangled to death here, is confined in a cell at central police headquarters, heavily guarded and manacled. He was positively identified as "the strangler," killer of the Winnipeg victims, and the "gorilla man," sought by United States police for two years for the slaying of 18 women and children in cities from the Pacific Coast to Detroit.

This is the man, police positively declare, who has struck terror into the hearts of residents of Winnipeg and Regina in the last two weeks and who has roamed the continent for four years, brutally slaying women and children in San Francisco, Buffalo, Detroit, Portland, Ore., and Winnipeg.

Re-captured at Killarney, Manitoba, after once escaping, the man was brought to Winnipeg on a special train.

When the man was first taken in charge by Winnipeg detectives at Killarney he gave his name as Virgil Wilson and stated that he was born in Lancashire, England, and that he had never been in the United States. When he was taken to the city police station tonight and asked to write his name and place of birth he wrote, "Earle Nelson, born San Francisco, 1897."

Penal Servitude for Life

Assassin of Soviet Minister to Warsaw—Doris Kowceda, the 19-year-old youth, who assassinated Peter Volkoff, Soviet minister at Warsaw, on June 7, was sentenced to penal servitude for life and the loss of all civil rights. Kowceda admitted the killing at his brief trial, but declared he was not guilty of murder. He had merely taken vengeance for "what the Bolsheviks have done in Russia."

Home Makers Discuss Immigration Question

Resolution Disapproving Government Relief Brought Before Convention

Saskatoon.—Disapproval of the vigorous immigration policy of the government until the present unemployed are cared for and until those already brought to Canada in former years have been assimilated and stabilized, and opposition to the granting of special privileges to those outside Canada that are not granted to fellow citizens here, was the substance of a resolution endorsed by the United Farmers and presented by the Robart Home Makers for discussion by the Home Makers clubs in annual session at Convocation Hall.

This resolution with the request for discussion was read by Miss De Lury in her annual report as convener of the immigration committee. Much interest has been aroused on the subject in many of the clubs and the practical working out of the immigration policies in the province has been discussed. It was stated, in addition, that a regular organized committee of immigration be formed on the same basis as other standing committees with a provincial convener.

Narrow Escape of Portuguese Aviators

Rescued by Fishing Boat When Plane Wrecked at Sea

Rio Janeiro, Brazil.—A three hours' battle with the elements as they held on to the floating wreckage of their plane in the story of Major Sarmento de Belres, Portuguese aviator, and the three men who were with him in his attempt to fly back to Lisbon by way of the United States. They left Para, Brazil, for Georgetown, British Guiana, on June 7, and in less than only 30 miles, a sharp gale compelled a forced landing at sea. When about to resume the journey a huge wave engulfed the plane, wrecking it.

The men held on tenaciously for three hours as a storm raged, great waves washing over them repeatedly.

When they had almost given up hope a fishing boat appeared and they were rescued with difficulty and taken to Para. The plane sank and only the log of the flight was saved.

Major Belres, who flew across the South Atlantic from the West African coast to an island off the Brazilian coast and thence to Brazil last March, now will return to Europe with his companions by steamer.

Developing Proper Spirit

Canadians Should Think of Canada All the Time

Ottawa.—"Until we develop a spirit of national consciousness Canada will never become a great country," was the statement of Howard Stutchbury, trade commissioner of Alberta, speaking here. "The people of the United States always think in terms of the United States. Over there they don't have 'made-in-the-empire' exhibitions—they don't have to, for the tendency to consume made products is inherent. That spirit should be encouraged in Canada, and until Canadians think of Canada all the time, Canada cannot become a great nation."

Orders Rent Reduction
Rome, Italy.—The cabinet has approved a decree of law forbidding increases in the present rent rates both of habitations and shops and fixing the maximum rates at four times those of 1914. The decree also ordered a fifteen per cent. reduction in the rent of apartments of less than six rooms, of ten per cent. for apartments less than nine rooms, but more than six, and reductions of from twenty per cent. for shops.

Regina.—That Saskatchewan may shortly be exporting a regular season quantity of butter to the British market, was stated by E. P. Saskatchewan creameries have for some time been manufacturing plants and organizations, and, favored by legislation of an encouraging kind, should be able to ship much butter to the old land, Mr. Jupp declared. It was necessary, however, that the requirements of the British market be carefully studied.

FINAL RESULTS OF ELECTIONS FOR IRISH COMMONS

Dublin.—With the three Independents to be elected by Dublin University, the final state of the parties in the new Dail Eireann will be as follows:

Government, including the Speaker automatically elected, 47.
Fianna Fail de Valera's party, 44.
Labor, 22.
Independents, 15.
Farmers, 11.
National League, 8.
Sinn Fein, 5.
Independent Republican, 1.
Total, 163.

The Clan Eireann, one of the numerous Free State political parties, has been extinguished by the general elections, and its founder, Prof. William Magennis, has lost his seat in the Dail. He represented the National University in Dublin and his only supporter in the last Dail, Patrick O'Malley, deputy Speaker, was defeated in Galway.

STEPS TO AVERT AT OUTBREAK OF WAR IN EUROPE

Geneva, Switzerland.—Statements attending the League of Nations Council meeting here are reported as increasingly convinced that the time has imperatively arrived to take preventive steps to avert an outbreak of war in Europe.

Fear of such an eventuality is mainly inspired by the reported attitude of Soviet Russia following the breaking of diplomatic relations by Great Britain and the assassination of the Soviet Minister to Poland. In Southern Europe another situation presents itself through the break of relations between Yugoslavia and Albania.

The Associated Press learns that Germany has been virtually brought over to the camp of those powers who favor warning Russia against continuance of her alleged propaganda abroad and terrorism at home.

If this warning is delivered jointly by the powers which is a possibility, it will not be worded as a menace to the Soviet system, but will be drafted from the viewpoint that Europe cannot risk another war and that the powers are united in the sense that any aggressor is the enemy of all.

Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany is profoundly anxious to avoid any appearance of "forging a hostile ring of steel around Russia" and will presumably only promise Germany's support to a general anti-war movement.

Germany has a special national interest in preventing any armed outbreak between the European powers and Russia as she subscribed to the principle to the Locarno pact on the understanding that German soil would not be utilized for the passage of troops moving against Russia, but as a member of the League of Nations she would find herself greatly embarrassed in preventing the operation of military penalties against any state which refused arbitration and resorted to hostilities.

Post-Graduate Course For Canadian Students

Plan Sought to Have British Examinations Come to Dominion

Toronto.—In order to control the influx of graduates of Canadian medical colleges to the United States, where many of them go for post-graduate work, the Canadian Medical Council has under discussion and arrangement a scheme for the correlation of British and Canadian medical education.

At present, cost of going to Britain to take post-graduate work places it beyond the reach of most eligibles. Under the plan which is expected to be in operation within a year, the graduate of a Canadian medical college will be able to take in Canada his primary examination for admission to the fellowship of the Royal College in Surgeons in England. British-examiners will come out and set the examinations.

The primary examinations in physiology and anatomy will be conducted here, but the final examination to people in the hinterlands of Canada as modern and up to date as if they were in a city.

Another activity in which the Canadian medical association is entering upon is the establishment in pioneer districts with the assistance of the Canadian Red Cross pioneer hospitals where the best medical services will be available to people in the hinterlands of Canada as modern and up to date as if they were in a city.

Cattle From Britain

First Shipment to Arrive After Embargo Restrictions Removed

Ottawa.—The first shipments of cattle and sheep to reach Canada from Great Britain since the embargo restrictions have been removed are now in the Dominion quarantine station at Levis, Que., the federal authorities were notified recently. A number of other permits have been issued for further shipments are expected to arrive shortly.

Cattle will be kept in strict quarantine for 30 days after arrival, while the quarantine period for sheep is 30 days from the time of embarkation. In order to prevent any possibility of the dissemination of infection should it be present in any of these imported animals, importers or other stockmen will not be permitted to enter the quarantine premises even for the purpose of looking their stock over.

Attack Oath of Allegiance

Objection Raised by Republicans of Irish Free State

Dublin, Irish Free State.—The oath of allegiance to which the Republicans have strenuously objected is: "I do solemnly swear true faith and allegiance to the constitution of the Irish Free State, as by law established, and that I will be faithful to His Majesty, King George V, his heirs and successors by law in virtue of his office as Emperor of Ireland to aid and member of the group of nations forming the British Commonwealth of Nations."

SEEK INCREASE OF TARIFF ON CLOTH IMPORTS

Ottawa.—Imported shirts were torn between the fingers and imported blankets were pulled easily into pieces before the tariff board by P. J. Campbell, manufacturer of flannels, Almonte, Ont., to show the nature of importations.

Mr. Campbell, in seeking an increased tariff, also sought to have standards established which would make it impossible to sell inferior fabrics for work shirts and flannels. Mr. Campbell produced imported shirts which had lost their color after a single washing and Canadian-made shirts still firm with fast colors after two years of wear and wash by hand.

The Merchant Tailor Association brief objected to any increase in tariff on imported British woollens. It was claimed the British materials were superior in uniformity and finish, and the pattern selection was greater than the Canadian.

R. P. Sparks presented the case for the Canadian Association of Garment Manufacturers, not requesting any specific change of duty but suggesting a spread of ten per cent. minimum between the two materials and the finished product. The hearing will continue.

EXTRA EXPENSE TO COMPLETE BAY ROAD THIS YEAR

Ottawa.—To complete the Hudson's Bay Railway to Port Nelson this year would involve an extra expenditure of from $250,000 to $350,000, it would be impossible to have engine terminal facilities by that time; the last 44 miles of the line could not be ballasted in 1927; even if the track were laid to the port by December 31, 1927, the C.N.R. could not guarantee to operate the line to Thibester for the balance of the year. This, in substance, is the communication which Hon. Charles Dunning, Minister of Railways, has sent to J. A. Stoneman, president of the Saskatchewan section United Farmers of Canada, in reply to telegrams from Mr. Stoneman to the Prime Minister urging completion of the Hudson's Bay Railway by the end of the year.

Although the Government's objective was to open the road at the earliest possible moment, Mr. Dunning declares in his letter that the completion of the railway would not expedite the opening of the route as the work at the port is by far the greatest time consumer. He continues:

"The Government decided also that during the summer months of 1927 a thorough expert investigation of the best method of port development, together with consideration of alternative ports, might be undertaken. This I dealt with fully in the house during the proceedings on the Hudson Bay vote before committee of supply."

Will Hear Canadian Appeals

Six Cases Will Come Before Session of Privy Council

London.—Six Canadian appeals are on the list for the June sittings of the judicial committee of the privy council.

Among them is one of the Lunear Collieries, Ltd., Alberta, an appeal in which the minister of Justice and Attorney-General of Canada is linked with others as respondent touching the jurisdiction of the board of railway commissioners for Canada over provincial railways.

There is also a reference by the Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, Hon. James Cranwick Tory, on questions affecting the constitution of the Nova Scotia legislative council. In this appeal the Nova Scotia Government is asked to order other to increase the membership of the legislative council beyond the present statutory number of 21, or dismiss the members of that body at pleasure, the government's aim being to abolish the council in either case.

Sale of Illicit Drugs Serious

Stern Action Needed for Its Control

Says Dr. Amyot
Toronto.—Stern action is needed to control the illicit sale of narcotic drugs in Canada, Dr. J. A. Amyot, Ottawa, deputy minister of health, said in his address to the Public Health Section of the Canadian and Ontario Medical Associations joint convention. With more than a thousand doctors registered, the joint session and various separate sections were in full swing.

Dr. Amyot said the seriousness of drug peddling was widely recognized and some legislators were in favor of drug sellers being whipped as well as fined.

Delegates From German Valley Ask League Council to Take Initiative

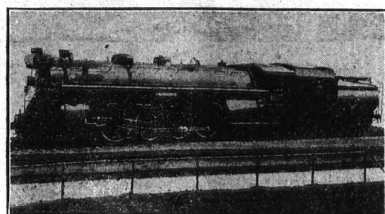

Geneva, Switzerland.—Early return of the Saare Valley to Germany without availing the plebiscite of 1925 is demanded in a memorial handed to Foreign Minister Stresemann of Germany by a delegation representing political groups in the district.

The memorial asks the League of Nations council to take the initiative in restoring the valley to Germany and "thus advance the economic interests of the Saare which suffer from the existing political status."

Urging Arbitration

Geneva, Switzerland.—Acceptance of obligatory arbitration by all governments was recommended by the League of Nations Council at its session which urged the League of Nations to frame a general conciliation treaty, open to all states. The council also adopted a resolution that the next assembly of the league declare a war ultimatum between the two nations and adopt a treaty for the prohibition of aggressive war.

Canada's Newest Locomotive

The illustration depicts the new "4100" class locomotive, the latest production of the mechanical department of the Canadian National Railway. Part of these "Northern Type" engines have been manufactured in Canadian plants for use of main line fast passenger and manifest freight service. They are 33 feet 10 1/2 inches over all. The tender has a capacity of 11,300 imperial gallons of water and 20 tons of coal. In working order the total weight of engine and tender is 635,000 pounds. Note the new position of the whistle, located on the left hand of the smoke box near the stack. This is to save the driver's ears. These engines are designed for power at speed and it is estimated that they can make 30 miles an hour with a heavy train.
